Loss in Expracting Sugar, -It is claimed that for every 100 hogsheads of sugar extracted from the sugar cane eleven are lost, because no adequate machinery has yet been devised for crushing the cane and extracting the rich juice thereof. The assertion comes from the very highest authority on matters appertaining to the sugar culture that our planters lose 200,000 hogshead a year by this waste, an amount representing $20,000,000 per annum. IN EXPLANATION OF THE ABOVE, we desire to say that the old plan of charging for the gross weight of the case, as if it were all gold, worked well enough as long as the manufacturers were content with the amount of brass and steel actually required in its construction; but when the business was degraded into a contest as to who should get the most base metal into the least quantity of gold, and call it a GOLD case, then the time came when, in the interest of dealers in American watches, it became necessary to adopt a plan of selling, showing the buyer exactly how much GOLD each case contained. LETTERS are to hand announcing the safe arrival England of Colonel Macfarlane and the six Hawaiian youths who left here in his charge. Three of them had already reached their destination in Glasgow, the others would shortly enter on their studies in England.

By the Ella, which sailed from San Francisco on the 18th ult., the Government Library will receive the second installment of the books recently ordered. The list includes a large number of standard works on subjects of general interest, but nothing in the way of new publications.

THE Kalakaua, from San Francisco, came into port about 5 p.m. on Tuesday, and moored at the Judd wharf. She experienced variable winds during the voyage with fine weather, never having to take in her skysails. She brings 11 horses, a fair complement of passengers, and a valuable cargo. Our thanks are due to Captain C. F. Miller for courteous attentions to our reporter.

THE remains of the late Bishop Maigret was removed on Thursday evening from the Mausolen on King-street to the Roman Catholic Cathedral on Fort-street. The procession was headed by a torchlight procession. A High Mass Service was held at the Cathedral yesterday at 9 a.m., in honor of the deceased. The body was interred on the | friends call upon him there. manka side of the altar. A NATIVE named Kawalani applied at the Police Station on Thursday night to know if some one had not telephoned to have him arrested for beating his March—Suite Emma Square this (Saturday) afternoon at half-past 4 o'clock. The following is the programme:

He seemed rather disconcerted when he learnt that no charge had been made against him. On being told if he liked, he could be locked up on SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS AND DEALhis own evidence, he expressed his entire willing-ness. He was recommended to go home as fast as A HEAVY rainstorm burst over the city early last Sunday morning. It was followed by frequent whom reference was made in our issue of the 20th

altimo, appeared before the Police Magistrate last Saturday morning, charged with the willful murder of Kainaile, the husband of Hana. They were each brought up separately, and told not to plead. They were remanded until to-day, at the request of the prosecution, pending the result of the analysis that has been made on the stomach of the deceased by Dr. Stangenwald. A THEF managed to get into the Empire Saloon between Friday and Saturday night last, by cutting out a pane of glass from one of the back winflows, and so gaining access to the latch of the window. He appears to have carried off about half a dozen bottles of liquor, one of which he let fall and broke before leaving. Under the open window there was placed a wooden horse, which made ingress and egress perfectly easy. The Empire corner is generally closely watched by the police during the day, but their vigilance was certainly wanting on the beautiful moonlight night A CHARGE of assault and battery was on Thursday preferred against one Preston Davis, in which the complainant had his thumb seriously injured by the teeth of the prisoner. Eight witnesses told eight ifferent stories concerning this disgraceful affair which happened in Smith street. His Honor cautioned the prisoner about his future conduct and released him on payment of $10 and $4 costs. Two cases of drunkenness were mot with the customary fine, and one was remanded until Saturday, at the special request of the victim's brother, A CHARGE of descriing bound service, heard before Judge Bickerton on Thursday, was the cause of a native policeman receiving a severe lecture from the Magistrate. The person charged was a native sailor in the employ of Messrs. T. R. Foster & Co. Whilst at work on Wednesday afternoon his desertion was anticipated by an over zealous policeman who obtained a warrant about half-fast four o'clock. The man did not leave his work before six o'clock that evening, and on his way to resume labor on Thursday morning he was arrested. The charge was dismissed and the costs ordered to be paid by the employers. LETTERS addressed as follows, and intended for the City of New York's mail, would have been detained for short postage had not a gentleman hailing from the colonies paid the differences on them. Those who posted them can return the amounts to Koung Bow and Co., George Kilgour, James Malcolm Dunn, Miss E. Dawes, Catherine Miller, Manager of the Bank of New South Wales, Westport, All for various places in Australia and New Zealand. In most cases the mistake was made by using 10 cent instead of 12 cent stamps.

THERE was a large amount of criminal business sposed of at the Police Station on Monday morn-Eight Chinamen appeared to answer one peared to give an account of his having intro-duced some opium, about the size of a pill, through the bars of the gaol kitchen. His defence was weak and farthermore it was not corroborated by his supposed accomplice an inmate of the gaol A reference to the record showed that this delinquent had only been released from durance vile about two months ago, and thither he was com-mitted again for a period of two months and fined $50. Two natives forfeited bail of $10 each, one for driving at night without lights, and the other for assault and battery on his wife. In the latter case it was the assaulted wife that bailed out her assailant. The last on the list, though not the least in number were the Saturday drunks. They amounted to 12 in all, subdivided as follows: 3 foreigners, 3 half-castes, and 6 natives.

THE British steamship Madras, Captain W. H. Bradley, arrived off this port on Wednesday p.m. twenty-five days from Hongkong, en route for Victoria, B. C. The Madras had 151 Chinese passengers on board, 13 of whom are women, all of whom have paid their passages through to Victoria. She stopped here to deliver 700 tons of freight, and Captain Bradley being under £3,000 bonds not to land any of his passengers here, notified the Chinese Consul of his protest against any of them being permitted to remain here in case they come on shore. He cannot, of course, prevent their coming on shore for a little run, neither can he, or any one else compel them to go on board again when the Madras is ready to leave. If they don't go they lose their passage to Victoria and must take care of themselves here. All well on board, and the passengers are reported to be a fine

THE Palace was illuminated for the first time last Thursday evening by gasoline. The result was a decided success, the several chambers and towers being lit up at one time. The illumination of the throne room with the coloring of its furniture, crimson and gold, presented an unusually brilliant very dark outlook. One day it occured to me effect. The Royal chambers, with their bright that I had used St. Jacobs Oil for rheumatism polished floors, which reflect the light, presented a very attractive appearance when illuminated. The banquetting hall is not so effectively lighted. but this will no doubt be remedied by an increased number of chandeliers. Some new appliances have been received at the Police Station, in the shape of "chain," "Phillips patent" nippers, and "duplex" whistles, for the use of the police. The chain nippers are of two short handles connected by a chain long enough to encircle a man's wrist. In grappling with a violent man, these nippers are thrown around the wrist, and kept there by grasping the handles in one hand. The prisoner then finds that the more he struggles the worse it is for him. "Phillips patent" nippers are of steel, and instead of a chain they are somewhat like a jointed hand-cuff, and encircle the wrist in the same manner, having a handle for the policeman to hold. The "duplex" whistles are of thin metal, double barrelled, and when blown into, give forth a rather hoarse, deep note being unlike the shrill, thrilling, tremelo of those in use. As the seund is totally unlike anthing ever heard before on these totally unlike anthing ever heard before on these islands, the call will be recognized at once, wherever heard.
